«There is no reason to have many bridges if not enough people are crossing them»

Cross a bridge today Metaphorically

Displace your limits in at last one situation

Using the principles
of compost,
turn
death into life

Slide in this day
and analyse the spaces
you enter into,

trying to unknot
your resistances

Write things down

Relate to borders,
through their aspect
of space and porosity

Openings and closings

Thought the question :
How do things that cross borders get transformed ?

Make your own questions emerge

vegetables, fruits, plants, of making jam and juices
